Perry Chinn, D.C. is an author, inspirational keynote speaker, Doctor of Chiropractic, helicopter instructor, and international business entrepreneur. He is the formulator and developer of the nutritional supplement Acctrix, a product specifically formulated to assist the body in reversing the effects of cardiovascular disease and based on the 1998 Nobel prize winning research of nitric oxide.

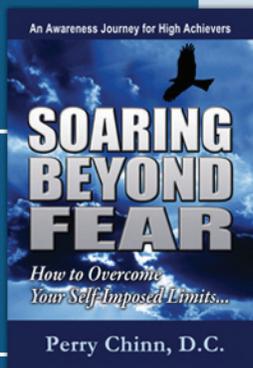

For more than 24 years, he has practiced chiropractic and explored the world of the fear-mind and its effects. As a result, he has written Soaring Beyond Fear a book designed and written to assist others to move above and beyond the limiting effects of fear. Dr. Chinn has also just released the second edition of his book Symphony of Wellness, with preface by Dr. Clair Francomano, M.D., director of human genome research project with the NIH, 2001-2005. This book presents the latest benefits of nitric oxide science for cardiovascular wellness.

Perry's mission is to help others overcome their fears by showing people how to become aware of their fear-mind and then to become the creator of their unique destiny.

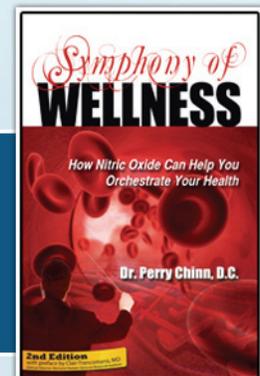

Born and raised in the Pacific Northwest, Perry graduated from Life University in 1986, and has lived in the Seattle area ever since. He and his wife, Melanie, currently reside in rural King county, Washington. They are the parents of four boys and three girls, along with a beautiful granddaughter.

“Dr. Perry Chinn is a visionary who is altering humanity, but it’s his fearless relationship with destiny that makes things happen. Through his association with Life University, home to the largest chiropractic college in the world, he has opened the doors to bringing a new principle of health to the doorstep of China. Soaring Beyond Fear will take you on a journey of discovery into the fear-mind’s realms. This book is a crucial tool in achieving abundance and a life of joy.”
~ Dr. Guy Riekeman
President of Life University

“Fear is a paralyzing emotion that can adversely affect health and create unhappiness. Just ask Dr. Perry Chinn, author of the fabulous book ‘Soaring Beyond Fear’. Recently I was privileged to hear him review the contents of his book to an audience of 25 doctors. He was informative for sure, but more importantly his down-to-earth and engaging talk was compelling and eye-opening. He has gained my respect and admiration.”
~ Dr. Larry Markson
The Cabin Experience
The Markson Connection

“Everyone has fear and everyone can overcome it. Soaring Beyond Fear can help you do just that.”
~ Dr. Eric Plasker,
bestselling author of The 100 Year Lifestyle and The 100 Year Lifestyle Workout

Soaring Beyond Fear is a fascinating journey into the day-to-day manipulations of the fear-mind. Dr. Chinn has explored the inner workings of what many have called the ego, an aspect of self that is valuable in crisis, but when allowed to have control, can wreak havoc in our lives.

Perry’s awakening to how his fear mind prevented him from living a life of joy and real meaning allowed him to break down barriers and find his own sense of freedom. Now he has a burning desire to share his experience with others struggling to regain control of their lives and destinies.

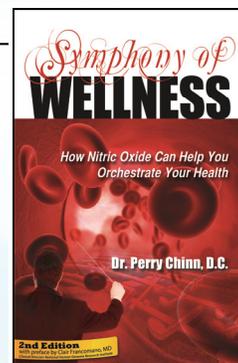

Using personal stories and clear-cut advice, Perry has created in Soaring Beyond Fear an opening for you to create the life you always intended. The spark to transformation lies within you! Let Perry help you turn it into a fire of fulfillment!

Perry Chinn is an author, speaker, and twenty-five year veteran of business and practice management. A graduate of Life Univ. in Marietta, GA, he is in private practice in Seattle, WA and spends his spare time speaking, coaching, teaching chiropractic and helicopter instruction. Dr. Chinn is available for keynote speaking and empowerment training.

When Dr. Chinn heard about nitric oxide’s benefits, he immediately became intrigued by how it worked and how it might offer relief to many people with health conditions—one benefit is that it can help to lower blood pressure. When Dr. Chinn started using nitric oxide product, he immediately experienced the benefits of lower blood pressure. Dr. Chinn was so impressed and enthusiastic about nitric oxide’s benefits that he became involved in forming a company, Unisal Wellness, to manufacture a nitric oxide supplement named Acctrix (www.Acctrix.com).

As Dr. Chinn explains, using nitric oxide has many benefits, including the potential to save or relieve millions of people suffering from circulation and heart disorders. The science of nitric oxide is based in the 1998 Nobel Prize winning work of Drs. Ignarro, Furchgott, and Murad who first researched and explored its benefits. While the body naturally produces nitric oxide, taking a high quality nitric oxide precursor supplement can help enhance one’s health, significantly boosting the body’s healing capacity, which too often today, is retarded due to stress, poor nutrition, and the toxicity of prescription drugs. As Dr. Chinn states, “Stress depletes our natural levels of nitric oxide in the body—stress interferes with our body’s ability to heal.” Optimal nitric oxide levels enhance the body’s immune response, and encourage natural cellular production of the vital molecule.

The noni plant extract precursor pathway to nitric oxide that is present in the Kyäni family of products is now a preferred method of nitric oxide supplementation.
